

Upcoming Training March 2022

Self-Regulation – What's it all about?

Children's feelings are big things! How do we support children to manage these feelings? How can we understand what is happening in those busy brains? This vital training will support you to understand what self-regulation means in the early years context and give you practical ideas to help children to manage their feelings and behaviour.

Date 8th March 2022

Time: 10:00 – 12:00

Trainer: Melanie Widnall and Sheryl Henry
Online

No one way to Plan

So many ways to plan! Which is the right one for your team and children? This course will explore different approaches to planning. If you are planning by topic, through children's interests or planning in the moment, or want to know about these types of planning, this course is for you!

Date 9th March 2022

Time: 16:00 – 18:00

Trainer: Nick Hewlett
Online

Plastic to Fantastic

Ditch the plastic and make your environment a natural wonder! Are you sick of all the plastic resources, then it's time for a learning environment make over. Natural materials stimulate children's creativity and imagination. Come and be inspired by the wide range of natural available and how you can implement them in your setting.

Date 16th March 2022

Time: 10:00 – 12:00

Trainer: Sarah Allen-Xuereb and Melanie Widnall

Online

Early Learning Goals: A Greater Depth

With the removal of exceeding judgement of the Early Learning Goals, how can we ensure that children are provided with the appropriate levels of challenge? This session will look at how you can provide this challenge for children.

Date 17th March 2022

Time: 16:00 – 17:30

Trainer Melanie Widnall

Online

Inspired by the EYFS – Developing your Curriculum and Practice

(All practitioners PVI, schools, nurseries and children's centres)

What do you believe in? from Reggio to Piaget many theorists have shaped our practice. This course will support you to develop your settings curriculum and pedagogy. Supporting you to confidently talk about how your approach supports children's learning and development.

Date: 22nd March 2022

Time: 10:00 -12:00

Trainers: Sheryl Henry

Online

Tapestry Revisited

A recap of the changes to Tapestry's assessment processes and newest updates to the system. A chance for settings that use Tapestry to share good practice.

Date 23rd March 2022

Time: 10:00 – 11:30

Trainer: Sheryl Henry

Online

Effective EYFS – Getting it right in the EYFS - online

(All practitioners PVI, schools, nurseries and children's centres)

What are the principles of the EYFS? How do we make sure children have the best possible experience in our settings? How do we successfully engage parents? This session will reflect on how to plan for a better provision and how to achieve the best possible practice for your setting.

Date: 24th March 2022

Time: 18:30 – 20:30

Trainers: Christina Kleanthous

To book please register on the HEP website:

<https://www.haringeyeducationpartnership.co.uk>

courses are available individually and as part of a package (see website for details).